LAST DAY OF CHEAP RATES.

No more Colonist Transportation Until Spring—Thousands Passing Through Salt Lake Today.

Despite the unsatisfactory financial conditions being reported from all sources there seems to be no end to the amount of money easterners, in search of homes throughout the West, have to spend for traveling. Today is the last day of cheap rates and travel towards the west through Salt Lake and Ogden will break all records. The travel over the Harriman lines passes, as a rule, through Ogden direct, transferring from the Union Pacific to the Southern Pacific, but travel from Denver via the Rio Grande comes to this city and is then directed to Ogden on the Southern Pacific. The traveler desiring to pass through Nevada via Salt Lake Routes comes to this city and on through. As an example of the enormous numbers of colonists going through Salt Lake on today's trains Rio Grande No. 1, tells a surprising story. No. 1 the Pacific Coast limited, due to pass through Salt Lake from the east at 3:30 o'clock is headed towards this city in six sections—making six separate, long trains, each carrying as many passengers as a regular.

TRAIN AFTER TRAIN.

The first section will reach this city somewhere near schedule time and from that hour on a train will arrive every hour or so, but steaming along a safe distance behind these six trains are a number of other trains—sections of Nos. 2 and 5, which are split up into three and four sections each. At least 10 trains will pass through here within the next 24 hours over the Rio Grande alone. Add to this the hundreds of colonists traveling westward over the Salt Lake Route and you have a fair idea of passenger traffic passing through Salt Lake today. Where are they all going? Is a question often asked. The west is large and needs thrifty settlers.

ALL RECORDS PAKE.

From Los Angeles comes the following A. P. dispatch:
Advices received by local railroads officials received today indicate that the traffic for today, the last of the season during which special rates are granted to colonists, will probably break all records for any given 24 hours. Over 20 special trains started tonight from various eastern cities, and will arrive in Los Angeles over the Southern Pacific, Santa Fe and Salt Lake routes within a week. It is said that fully 10,000 colonists are tonight on their way to California aboard special and regular trains. The volume of this description of the season will break all records.

HARRIMAN LINES' SCHEME.

Want Young Men to Learn Railroad Engineering from Ground Up.

Houston, Tex., Oct. 28.—Young men with college or technical school training are wanted in the service of the Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio railway. Vice President Theodore H. Pay of the Harriman lines in Texas, has written to the president of the Agricultural and Mechanical college of the state, asking for the names of graduates or students who want to learn railroad engineering from the ground up.

These students will be placed first in the accounting department, and then in district superintendents' offices, with section crews, under roadmasters and engineers, and so on through every department necessary to a thorough education in railroad engineering. Mr. Pay suggests that "influential connections should be selected solely upon their own merits, considering their courage, intelligence, and ability," and promises to keep a watchful eye on these student members of his staff.

Underlying this policy is the same ground that led to the establishment of the free traveling library on the G. H. and S. A. and other Harriman lines in Texas. To provide instruction and entertainment for the section men, their families and neighbors, the library system now circulates 4,000 newspapers, magazines and books every week through 200 distributing centers.

SANPETE, NOW MEMORY.

Old Time Line Passes Into Rio Grande System—Officers Retire.

The Sanpete Valley railroad passed out of existence last evening and this morning is a part and portion of the morning to a part and portion of the purchase six weeks ago and while the Rio Grande has operated the road the Sanpete officers remained in office until last evening, when they retired formally. The operating officials of the Rio Grande will assume the duties of the old officers, making any new appointments unnecessary.

SALT LAKE PROMOTED.

J. H. Young, son of Le Grand Young of this city, has been made general manager of the Southern Pacific. Mr. Young has been superintendent of the western division of the road and his promotion was made possible by the creation of a new office of assistant general manager to be filled by former General Supt. Scott. T. A. Lawson, formerly assistant general manager of the Chicago & North Western, will succeed Mr. Young as superintendent of the western division.

INEBRIATES CAN'T RIDE.

Drunk men can't ride upon Oregon Short Line and Southern Pacific trains. This is a rule issued by the two companies and train crews are instructed to see it is carried out. The rule was passed a few days ago. It is explained, the train was put off in and in trying to hit the conductor with a piece of coal and, injuring her so badly a physician's attention was necessary. Travelers will welcome the change.

WANTS WHITE MEN.

Senator Simon, Republican, says work on his road to the mouth of the canyon from this city is not to be stopped, stringency or no stringency. All foreigners have been laid off because I want to make money for white men. There are plenty of white men anxious to find something to do with winter coming on," he said. "I explained to my men a few days ago that there might be some delay in paying them in cash while the banks are closing over the present financial storm and told them they did not feel like staying, they could leave. Not a white man left. That's the kind of workmen I like to do business with. I want to make money for white men in half a day."

PENNSYLVANIA RETRENCHES.

Has Eight and Half Millions and Declares for Economy in 1908.

Philadelphia, Nov. 1.—Declaring that the outlook for raising new capital next year is unfavorable, the directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad company have decided to retrench and after their meeting today, at which they declared the usual semi-annual dividend of 2 1/2 per cent, gave out a statement that economy would be the policy of the great corporation during 1908. The announcement came as a surprise in view of the statement issued from President McCrea's office on Wednesday, that the earnings of the company are 11 per cent greater than they were at the same period last year. President McCrea said today that in view of the unsatisfactory outlook for raising new capital in 1908, it was in his judgment, necessary and prudent for the company to continue its holdings of not beginning any new work or committing the company to any new capital requirements except those absolutely necessary to economically handle its traffic. With that end in view the company would undoubtedly restrict its needs to a minimum and would not push the work on the New York tunnel extension or other uncompleted improvements as vigorously as had been done in the past.

This will somewhat delay the completion of the New York tunnel as a whole but progress in the erection of steel for the new terminal building in New York will not be affected. The city streets and avenues will not be materially retarded by the proposed slow expenditure.

The meeting today lasted but 15 minutes and the directors and officers then boarded a special train for New York.

They will inspect the terminal in New Jersey and Long Island.

It is learned that the company's statement for the six months out of which the semi-annual dividend is declared today will show a net surplus after all charges and dividends of more than $5,000,000.

HORTICULTURIST'S REPORT.

County Inspector Advises County Commissioners of Work Done in October.

John P. Sorenson, county horticultural inspector, has made the following report of his work for the month of October, to the board of county commissioners and the secretary of the state board of horticulture.

In the month of October only one deputy worked 14 days lacking after the harvest of the month of May and at East Jordan, inspecting trees as they were dug up for shipping or delivery. I have inspected about fifty stores where fruits, especially apples, are handled, and have found many have been infected with San Jose scale, and with the assistance and under direction of officers of the state board of horticulture (about 12,000 pounds) to the crematory and saw them burned, fruit boxes and all. In another store I found a number of apples badly infected, and they were treated with a liberal dose of coal oil, and next day taken to the crematory and burned, boxes and all.

I have inspected and fumigated two bunches of trees imported, one from Philadelphia, Pa., and one from Iowa.

The nurseries in the Salt Lake City and Murray have been given a last inspection before the digging of trees commenced, and found to be in a better condition than before, both in regard to clean stock as well as excellent and heavy growth.

The horticulturist's credit I can say they have been a great asset and of great value with their young trees this season, both in regard to spraying them for insect pests as well as cultivating them for a healthy growth.

This is my report for the month of October, 1907.

Respectfully,
JOHN P. SORENSON,
Horticultural Inspector.

HE WILL TELL IT ALL.

Viborg of Swedish Lutheran Church Proposes to Remove Prejudice.

Rev. Viborg, Jenkoping, Sweden, a clergyman of the Swedish Lutheran church, addressed a congregation of Latter-day Saints in the Fourteenth ward assembly hall last evening and was listened attentively to throughout. During his remarks he congratulated the Latter-day Saints on the grand work in which they are engaged and stated that hundreds of his friends in Sweden were expecting to hear from him as to the true conditions in Utah. He affirmed that he would bear witness for his people. Rev. Viborg is an eloquent speaker and his discourse was followed with deep interest. Elders Andrew Jensen and Sigvald also delivered short addresses to Swedish.

AS TO REGISTRATION.

Attorney General Breeden on the Qualifications of an Elector.

Atty.-Gen. Breeden returned the following opinion this afternoon, relating to the qualifications of an elector, in reply to a query from Thomas L. McCarty, Esq., Green River, Utah:
I beg to acknowledge your favor of the 30th ulto, seeking advice of this office relative to the requirements of the registration law of this state.

Section 803, Rev. St. of 1893 provides: "That every person applying to be registered must before be or she is entitled to have his or her name registered take and subscribe an oath setting forth his or her qualification."

Section 804 provides that when any person appears and demands to be registered when the registry agent does not know to be entitled to register under the qualifications required by law, the registry agent must question the applicant generally, under oath, as to his qualifications as an elector, etc.

Section 821 provides that no person shall be permitted to vote at any general or special election without having been first registered within the time and in the manner and form required by the provisions of this chapter, etc.

It is very clear from these sections of the law that the legislature intended to require all persons to appear before the proper registry agent and subscribe to the required oath as a condition precedent to his qualification as an elector and his right to vote. But there is no provision, however, of the registration act which warrants the conclusion that it was the intention that the legal voter who has properly applied for registration, but who has been misled by the registry agent, and therefore deprived of his right to register should also be such misleading be deprived of his constitutional right to vote at the polls. I am of the opinion that neither the malfeasance or misfeasance of the registry agent can operate to deprive the legal voter who has properly applied for registration in the manner required by law of his constitutional right. That is to say, if the registration agent advised the applicant for registration that he was not necessary for such applicant to subscribe to the oath required by law, and for that reason he failed to take and subscribe to the oath, but his name is placed upon the registry list by the registry agent, such person will be entitled to vote at the next ensuing election, provided he possesses all the legal qualifications required by law. Section 804 does not in any sense modify or change the provisions of Section 803. This section 804 was intended to give the registry agent authority to interrogate and examine the applicant for registration who had signed the required oath as to his qualifications, to determine for himself whether or not such applicant was legally entitled to vote, or was swearing falsely as to his qualifications as an elector. Without further discussion, you are advised in accordance with the foregoing views.

Junius F. Wells Brings Apple from Tree Placed in Ground by Joseph Smith, Sr.

REGION OF SHARON, VERMONT.

Grounds Surrounding Monument of Prophet Have Been Beautified—
Many Tourists Visit Spot.

After quite a lengthy journey in the New England states, principally in the region of Sharon, Vt., Junius F. Wells is at home again. Much of his time during the summer has been spent in superintending the work of beautifying the grounds around the Joseph Smith monument and the cottage that stands near that memorial. The hillside thus only a short time ago was but a bed of rock, has taken on an appearance that is a delight to the eye of all beholders. From 2,500 to 3,000 tourists have visited the spot during the summer months, and nothing but praise has been heard concerning the enterprise and the manner in which it has been carried to a most happy conclusion.

TREE 103 YEARS OLD.

The "News" was today shown an apple plucked by Mr. Wells from a tree in the orchard planted by Joseph Smith Sr., at least 103 years ago. Many of the trees were still standing when ground was broken for the monument and buildings, but most of them had to be cleared away. The one in question occupied a spot not directly in the way of contemplated improvements, and it was permitted to remain. The dead and impaired branches were removed and then it was observed by Mr. Wells that the entire inside of the tree was decayed. The thought struck him that a little work such as a dentist is wont to perform upon a hollow tooth would not be out of place, so he caused every vestige of decay to be removed from the inside of the trunk and the cavity was filled with cement, it taking ten or twelve bushels to do the work of dentistry. By the employment of this means, as well as digging and cultivating around the roots, caused the tree to grow a prolific crop of goodly sized and finely flavored fruit, perhaps ten bushels in all, each apple averaging in weight two or three times as much as had been the case for many years past.

STATEMENT CONFIRMS.
The statement of old residents of the region that the orchard was planted by the father of the prophet, was borne out by counting the circles around the trunks of some of the trees cut down.
